heavy losses.The French attack in Champagne attacks obtained no results."In Champagne the fighting began again after noon yesterday and continued into the night. The French troops captured Chalence.""The Germans made strong efforts to drive the French from the wood southeast of Orfoul, which they had and inflicted heavy losses on the lots from the factories for service overseas.W. C. Potter, acting director of the bureau of aircraft production, made this announcement upon his return to Washington yesterday from an inspection of factories building planes and motors.The light was very good and the

Is Becoming Involved.RETIREMENTS AT 3 IMPORTANT POINTSAdmission of Loss of Positions in St. Quentin, Rheims and Champagne
Is Made.By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 3.—Field Marshal Haig's announcement that a German retreat had begun in the La Bassee sector is commented on as a development of far-reaching importance. It is assumed, and unofficially stated, that the town of La Bassee has been evacuated. It is also believed that the enemy withdrawal involves Lens and there is a report, too, that the Germans have ordered that Lille be abandoned.To the successful operations of the Belgian army and Gen. Plumer's forces to the north is attributed the enemy's movement to the rear. The English-Belgian drive has brought those forces near to Mons.Unconfirmed reports come from Holland that the Germans are preparing to evacuate the Flanders coast and the town behind it.The breach in the Hindenburg system between La Cotelet and St.
Quentin by the British, Australian and American troops is commented as an incident of great importance.
Although it has not yet compelled the enemy to withdraw it is admitted by Berlin that there have been retirements in the neighborhood of St.
Quentin, Rheims and in Champagne.Taken in connection with the retreat further north, it is believed that the whole German line is shaking.Nevertheless, the enemy is putting up a tremendous resistance and exceedingly fierce fighting continues. The battle is fluctuating without great changes in the position of the contending armies from Cambrai southward. It is regarded as an open question whether the desperate efforts of the German indicate their determination to hold in this sector or is merely an attempt to gain time while evacuating their present line.The breach in the line north of St.
Quentin imperils the whole German position. It says that the break in the line was a tremendous feat which has done in the past. Special dispatches from the British front give vivid descriptions of the terrific attacks in the neighborhood of Cambrai on Tuesday and of the stubborn German resistance in this sector.No more furious fighting has occurred during the whole war.Referring particularly to the struggle in the sector north of Cambrai, the Mail's correspondent tells how in one sudden round captured by the Canadians and British there was an enemy machine gun every four yards, but most of them had been knocked out by artillery fire. Along the road bodies of men were lying with the wreckage of mine guns.
The fighting never ceased, and as the day advanced German reinforcements streamed forward in successive groups.The light was very good and the British gunners fired round after round with open sights. Germans man Despotism.By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Signs are multiplying in reports reaching the State Department of the rapid weakening of the despotic control which the military elements in Germany and Austria have imposed upon the civilian population.American officials are becoming convinced that the imperial rulers have been forced to the conviction that, if they are to preserve their dynasties, they must yield to the growing demands for the right of participation in the Government during this crisis.The military parties have retained control only because of their asserted ability to secure a military decision that would confirm German supremacy.
Now that the German armies are being defeated, and the nation is confronted with an invasion and retributive justice for the wrongs it has inflicted, the influence of the military-Germans and military parties is waning. It is believed that the two Emperors, if they are to retain the support of the people, must turn to the civilian parties that have been demanding a voice in affairs.

Only Hope for Safety.

It is pointed out that President Wilson has recently declared that with the military rulers of the Central Powers convicted of broken faith and deceit, there can be no discussion of the peace for which the German people apparently are clamoring.Hence the heated attempts of the Imperialists to erect a structure of real democratic government through the election of a National Assembly, the Parliaments in the hope that with these the Kaiser's statements will be willing to confer about peace.Indications of such a purpose are discussed by American officials to various utterances and acts of the German and Austrian leaders. In his acceptance of the resignation of President Hindenburg, Emperor Wilhelm pledged to the strong men of Germany to come to his aid and share the burdens of Government, a direct bid for the support of the Socialists and Centrists in return for participation in the Cabinet.

Socialists Seek Cabinet Places.

Statements in leading German newspapers that the creation of a responsible Cabinet are under consideration are also significant because they were passed by the censor. The refusal of the Socialists to enter the Government as at present constituted is indicative of a determination to seek a more radical change.By the Associated Press.

Map of Military Situation Today

1. French, British and Belgian armies are striking for the rear of the German channel ports of Ostend and Zeebrugge, by way of Roulers. Their advance is reported within two miles of the last town. The Germans are retiring on the 20-mile front between Armentieres and Lens, arrows 2 and 3. This retirement is in consequence of the rapid advance of the allies to the north, and between Cambrai and St. Quentin. Arrow 4 marks the neighborhood of the greatest British advance in this region. The shaded portion of the map roughly outlines the territory recaptured by the allies this year.GERMAN FRONT CRUMBLING, mits, adding that the German front adds, "is being carried out in an extraordinary manner. It is an awful strain on our front. The situation on the Meuse, where the Americans at-

WAR PICTURE EXHIBIT OPENS

Chicago Artist Explains French Paintings on View at City Hall.

An exhibition of some 600 drawings and paintings by French soldiers, depicting military life at first hand, was opened at city hall last night by Mayor Kiel. It will continue until Oct. 15, in connection with the Liberty Loan drive.

In charge of the exhibition is Sergt. Robert Lortie, a "Blue Devil," who was assigned by the French High Commission. The pictures are explained by Edgar S. Cameron, a Chicago artist, representing the Committee on Public Information. The drawings are for sale, the proceeds going to wounded French artists and the families of such as have been killed.

Police Find Now They Fought Pugilist

No Wonder They Suffered Casualties—Soldier Opponent Willie Ritchie Once Champion.

Detective Sergeants Dennis and Stangler have learned that the army sergeant who Tuesday night at Union Station compelled them to call reinforcements before they could arrest him was Sergt. Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion fighter of the world, conqueror of Ad Wolf, and a long time including themselves.

Dennis appeared today with a black eye and his right hand bandaged. Stangler still felt the effects of the fight. Ritchie knocked him down three times, each time picking him up to knock him down again.

"Too Many Spark Plugs."

The detectives eventually landed Ritchie in the inebriate ward, from which he later was transferred to the holdover at police headquarters. Detective Sergeant Tom Murphy, passing through, thought he recognized Ritchie and asked if he was not the former champion.

The prisoner admitted he was. "What are you doing here?" Murphy demanded.

"Oh, I had a little trouble at Union Station with a couple of detectives," Ritchie said. "They should have stood me on my head and kicked my pants. I had one too many spark plugs."

Attended Wedding Here.

Ritchie explained that he now is boxing instructor at Camp Harry J. Jones, Douglas, Ariz. He said that he was returning from a furlough at Oakland, Cal., and had come on to St. Louis to attend the wedding of his "bunkie."

He said that the ceremony was conducted with numerous libations and that the drinking explained both the incident with which he had pronounced his name and the distinctness with which he had upheld it.

He said that he had forgotten his coat when he departed for Union Station and that all his papers, including his furlough, were in the coat. He said his furlough did not expire until Oct. 15 and that if taken to Jefferson barracks he could establish he was not deserting. Dennis and Stangler took him to the barracks.

Dennis appeared today with a black eye and his right hand bandaged. Stangler still felt the effects of the fight. Ritchie knocked him down three times, each time picking him up to knock him down again.

"Too Many Spark Plugs."

The detectives eventually landed Ritchie in the inebriate ward, from which he later was transferred to the holdover at police headquarters. Detective Sergeant Tom Murphy, passing through, thought he recognized Ritchie and asked if he was not the former champion.

The prisoner admitted he was.

"What are you doing here?" Murphy demanded.

"Oh, I had a little trouble at Union Station with a couple of detectives," Ritchie said. "They should have stood me on my head and kicked my pants. I had one too many spark plugs."

Attended Wedding Here.

Ritchie explained that he now is boxing instructor at Camp Harry J. Jones, Douglas, Ariz. He said that he was returning from a furlough at Oakland, Cal., and had come on to St. Louis to attend the wedding of his "bunkie."

He said that the ceremony was conducted with numerous libations and that the drinking explained both the incident with which he had pronounced his name and the distinctness with which he had upheld it.

He said that he had forgotten his coat when he departed for Union Station and that all his papers, including his furlough, were in the coat. He said his furlough did not expire until Oct. 15 and that if taken to Jefferson barracks he could establish he was not deserting. Dennis and Stangler took him to the barracks.

GERMAN COLONIAL SECRETARY SAYS EMPIRE NEEDS COLONIES

By the Associated Press.
AMSTERDAM, Oct. 3.—Dr. W. S. Solf, German Colonial Secretary, in a lecture at Munich with King Ludwig of Bavaria present, said again that the colonies far surpassed any other task for Germany.

For wool alone Germany would have to keep 50,000,000 sheep, which was practically impossible. The sunny of raw materials was the weak point in Germany's world economy.

Dr. Solf said the policy of the open door must be one of the most important demands at the conclusion of peace. Germany had no thought of militarizing Africa, he contended, but desired to prevent the employment of colored men in Europe.

The Imperial German Government, he said, adhered firmly to its demand for the return of its African and South Sea colonies as well as a fresh partition of Africa, so as to consolidate Germany's scattered possessions.

TELLS OF BEING LOST IN NO MAN'S LAND

St. Charles Soldier Also Writes of Time When Germans Took to Heels.

Getting lost in No Man's Land and making the Germans take to their heels without a fight, are adventures related in a letter of Private James F. Bailey, First Battalion Scouts, 138th Infantry, in France, to his father, George Bailey, 511 Tecumseh street, St. Charles. Private Bailey enlisted in the First Missouri Regiment in May, 1917. His letter, dated Aug. 19, follows in part:

"Night before last I was with a patrol out in No Man's Land, and I and another fellow named Dickerson got lost from our party. There we were, lying out there in No Man's Land, knowing neither whence nor whither. The moon was just going down, and you can imagine how we felt. Still I had to laugh at my partner, although I did not feel very safe myself. The Germans sent up lots of flare lights, which are as bright as the lights on streets, right over our heads. They came down by a small parachute. Believe me, you have to lie still. If you move, someone else gets your pay. After a little time I remembered the way back. We crawled through barbed wire on our stomachs in the most quiet way. For if Fritz hears you, it only means that you get about 15 grenades and the contents of a couple of machine guns.

"But, I want to make you laugh, so I will tell you a short story about my first night on patrol. It was a combat patrol, with about 20 men and a Sergeant in the bunch. We had our rifles and two grenades apiece. When it got dark we began to crawl out. My first time! Talk about shaking. When I was lying still I could hear my heart beating like a drum. Then we would go a little farther. Then all at once went a light. Thought, 'O, Lord, here I go,' and I about swallowed my gizzard before I got my breath. We heard a German patrol coming, and they heard us. I thought again I was gone, but they took to their heels, and did not even make a stand.

GERMANS URGED TO RETREAT IN FRANCE TO DEFEND BALKANS

General Collapse in East Certain Unless Troops Are Withdrawn on Other Fronts, Says Editor. Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch. LONDON, Oct. 3.—The Berlin Vossische Zeitung, in an article communicated from a "special quarter" advocates even a German withdrawal from the west front and from Italy, to prevent a general collapse in the East. So states a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Times.

The Vossische Zeitung insists that with Bulgaria out it would be impossible for Turkey, with Constantinople's gates threatened by the allies, to hold out. The effect of this on Rumania would be only too clear. The whole of the Balkans would then be in the hands of the Entente and would form an admirable base of operations against Austria, if Austria could continue to resist, which is improbable.

AMERICAN PARTY, CUT OFF FOR TWO DAYS, IS RESCUED

Ground Where They Were Isolated Between Cambrai and St. Quentin Stricken With German Dead.

By the Associated Press. BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Wednesday, Oct. 2.—The contingent of Americans who had been holding out since Sunday in a far advanced position between Cambrai and St. Quentin against greatly superior enemy numbers, have been rescued.

In our attacks around Vendhuile yesterday we were able to fight through and relieve this party, numbering some hundreds, who having taken up their position Sunday night, were surrounded by the Germans early Monday.

Notwithstanding that they were opposed by such superior numbers and only possessed the annunciations and ration which they themselves were carrying, the Americans made a magnificent resistance, and the ground was strewn with German dead.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 3.—Describing the rescue of a contingent of Americans who for two days had been cut off from their comrades in an advanced position between Cambrai and St. Quentin, the Mail's correspondent at British headquarters says it was one of the most dramatic incidents of the war. The Americans rushed forward with too high courage on Saturday and became completely encircled. There they remained until Tuesday, when a British unit forced its way across the canal and released them.

MAN TWICE SUED FOR BREACH OF PROMISE PLANS TO MARRY

Stanislaus, 61, Files Pre-Nuptial Agreement Preliminary to Wedding Mrs. Annie D. Berry.

Stanislaus Mitchell, 61 years old, president of the Mitchell Clay Manufacturing Co., who in 1916 was sued for breach of promise by two women within a period of a few months, yesterday filed a pre-nuptial agreement with Mrs. Annie D. Berry, widow of J. M. Berry, as a preliminary to their marriage next Monday.

Mrs. Berry is a grandmother and, according to Mitchell, is a sweetheart of his school days. She agrees to accept $5000 of his estate in lieu of her dower rights. She is said to possess considerable money in her own rights.

Miss Daisy Barnett, 20 years old, 1915 America avenue, sued Mitchell for $100,000 on July 29, 1916, and Mrs. Katherine M. Lloyd, 35, who formerly lived near Mitchell's bachelor apartment at 5300 Vernon avenue, sued for $50,000 on Sept. 15.

1916, alleging that Mitchell induced her to divorce her husband and then refused to marry her. Miss Barnett's suit was later dismissed on her motion. That of Mrs. Lloyd also was dismissed, but a motion to stay dismissal has not yet been argued.

Mitchell, at the time of the suits, said that he was a "ladies' man," but had asked no woman to marry him.

BULGARIAN NEWS CHEERS TROOPS

Americans Shout It Across to German Trenches.
By the Associated Press.
AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Wednesday, Oct. 2.—News of the Bulgarian armistice has been received with rejoicings by the troops, who shouted it across to the enemy lines, where the lines were near enough.

EVERYONE SHOULD DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Wash away all the stomach, liver and bowel poisons before putting more food into stomach.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, cold, rheumatism or gassy acid stomach you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician. To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach. Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation. To feel like young folks feel: like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—ADV.

FOLK'S PLEA WINS AT GOVERNOR'S DINNER

Recalcitrant State Employees' Support Is Pledged to the Senatorial Nominee.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 3.—Open opposition among appointees of Gov. Gardner to Joseph W. Folk, Democratic nominee for United States Senator, was dissipated last night at a country ham dinner given by the Governor for the purpose of bringing his recalcitrant appointees into line for Folk. Of about 23 present all except two were pronounced anti-Folk Democrats, but by the time Folk finished pleading for their support, all had agreed to vote for him. The question of funds was not raised, but those who attended were advising their office forces today that campaign contributions would be expected from them. Chairman Neale of the State Committee failed to attend.

Folk Pleads for Support.
The feature of the dinner was Folk's plea for the support from the Gardner organization, which consists largely of the elements of the party which Folk always has fought in other campaigns. He declared he was not over-confident of election, that he needed and sincerely wanted the support of all those present. He recognized in his remarks that he was in the presence of his enemies and based his plea for support solely on the ground that the party in Missouri should not permit factional differences to defeat him this year when President Wilson wanted a Democratic-Senator.
Folk urged a united support of Justice Graves, who is a candidate for re-election, and Uel W. Lampkin, candidate for Superintendent of Schools. He even said that if there was any whose antagonism toward him was such that they could not support him, that they should support the remainder of the ticket. There were many speeches after the dinner, principal one being by Attorney-General McAllister, who is one of the most bitter anti-Folk Democrats in the State. McAllister did not have any words of praise for Folk, but he did urge support of the whole ticket.
One of those present said today that the dinner began with an uneasy feeling evident, but that "Folk came off his high horse and begged for the support of the men whom he had in the past sought to repudiate," and that they would support him.
Employees to Help.
"It would be foolish to say that anybody was converted into being a Folk man," this Gardner appointee said. "We are as much opposed to Folk as ever, but we will not run the risk of making the Senate Republican and embarrassing the administration. We will vote for him and we will expect the employees of our departments to do what they can for him, but we hope that in two years, when his term will expire, that we will not be put up against the proposition of having to vote for him again."
So far as has been known, State Senator Sam B. Cook was the only person invited who refused to attend the dinner. Cook and Folk have been enemies since the campaign of 1904, when Folk was elected Governor and Cook was defeated for Secretary of State.
Cook's friends have always charged that Folk sacrificed Cook to elect himself. When Cook was invited he quickly sent word to the Governor that he had a very important engagement. R. V. Cooper, an emissary from the State Committee, sent to Jefferson City to collect funds from State employees, resumed his work this morning.

Cooper, an emissary from the State Committee, sent to Jefferson City to collect funds from State employees, resumed his work this morning.
They were gathered in groups in all the offices this morning, getting word from their chiefs that they would contribute, and the decision was generally reached that they would give 1 per cent.
Those at the Dinner.
Those who attended the dinner were Supreme Judges H. W. Bond, Fred L. Williams, W. V. Graves and James T. Blair; Secretary Joseph Goldman of the Mine Inspection Bureau, Oil Inspector J. H. Dickbrader, J. Kelly Pool of the Prison Board, Chairman Bush of the Public Service Commission, Chairman W. R. Painter of the Prison Board, Beer Inspector Speed Mosby, Commissioner Doe Brydon of the Land Reclamation Department, State Superintendent of Schools Lampkin, Labor Commissioner W. H. Lewis, Adjutant-General Clark, Secretary Jewell H. Mays of the Board of Agriculture, Attorney-General McAllister, State Treasurer Middleton, and Drug Commissioner Barnhouse, Oil Inspector Omar D. Gray, Secretary of State Sullivan, Attorney R. Perry Spencer of the Insurance Department, J. D. Lindsay, assistant counsel of the Public Service Commission, and Newton Williams, secretary to the Governor.

ST. LOUIS CORPORAL TELLS OF CHASING ENEMY FOR 29 DAYS

Routed Germans From Positions on the Marne Prepared as if for "a Sure Thing."
"For every shell the Dutch sent over, the Americans sent two back," wrote Corp. Charles Schott of Company K, Seventh Infantry, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schott of 6954 Arthur avenue, in describing the rout of the Germans along the Marne in July. Schott said the German barrage on July 15 lasted for 10 hours and that he sat doubled up in a small hole throughout that time. When the Americans had got the Germans on the run, Schott wrote, the "Yanks" followed, and crossed the Marne on a bridge made by using empty gasoline cans as pontoons. The Germans fled so fast that they left everything, including great shells, on some of which, Schott said, propellers had been attached. The Germans had everything prepared as if they thought they had a sure thing and had even started to harvest crops, which were later cut by French peasants who returned after the enemy had disappeared. Schott is 23 years old. He was an artist in the employ of the Barnes-Crosby Co. when called in the first draft for training at Camp Funston. He went over last February. His service at the front during the July drive extended over a period of 29 days, during which time, he wrote, he had no time for a chance of

FARMERS UNDERSTAND LOANS

That is Reason Suggested for New Orleans Land Bank Increase. NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 2.—Application for loans have been received during September at the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans at the rate of $1,000,000 per month. C. C. Caspard, secretary of the bank, believes the steady increase in the business of the bank is largely due to a more comprehensive understanding of the Federal system of rural credits. In this connection he said Saturday: "There was a good deal of misconception on the part of farmers as to the methods of obtaining loans as well as the advantages that are held out to farmers, and in a great many sections in this district it tended to act as an impediment to farmers obtaining loans, but we are glad to say they are now becoming educated to the real advantages of the system and there is a healthy increase not only in the number of applications, but in the amounts of loans."

U. S. SOLDIERS DIE WITH TRUST IN GOD

By MARTIN GREEN,
(A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.)
(Copyright.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Since my return to New York I have been asked many times if soldiers actually engaged in warfare pay any attention to religion.

Observation establishes that participation in the job of earnestly trying to kill or wound makes for indifference to death and suffering as such, but cultivates in every soldier who has had any religious training quickening of thought about the future life.

Practically every American boy has been taught that there is an existence beyond the grave and that the lines of that existence are governed by one's mode of life. Few American boys in our armies in France have not been repeatedly told that people without sin go to heaven and sinners go to hell. Most of them went into the army sincere believers in heaven and hell.

Experience with the hell on earth associated with the sort of warfare that is waged in these enlightened times tends to dull the belief in a hell beyond, and promote a sort of confidence that a fellow who puts up a good fight and gets killed in action has more than a fair chance of being well cared for on the other side.

Most Soldiers Fatalists.
Face to face with death in many forms, the soldier is bound to think about dying. He sees his pals go and hears about others he knew who have been killed. Gradually he becomes a fatalist. If he is going to get his, all right, and if he isn't, all right. He is convinced that he is fighting for a righteous cause. There ought to be some reward for fighting for a righteous cause.

Survivors of the war will get their reward in the thanks of the people, the respect of the world. The fellow who gets killed is entitled to his reward, too, and surely God isn't going to overlook the fact that he gave his life for the principles of right.

In rough outline that is the American soldier's philosophy.
Texas Boy Not Afraid.
I talked with a Texas boy in one of our base hospitals. Two days before his right leg had been amputated at the hip.

Over each bed was a framework and suspended from the framework was a net of weights and ropes and pulleys. The stubs of the amputated limbs were resting in soft bandages attached to weights so regulated as to hold them in a comfortable position and each wound was under a drainage treatment.

The nurse volunteered the information that, while awaiting his operation and under the influence of delirium he had sung many camp-meeting hymns. The boy smiled and said that back home he was considered a right smart singer at camp meetings.

"But," he said, "I never knew I was singing hymns. I never sung a hymn since I joined the army except when I went to a religious service. I don't think hymn singing is going to get me anywhere."

"After I got hit I thought I was going to die. I wasn't scared about it. I just said to myself that if I was going to die I was going to die. I didn't say no prayers. Then I just naturally passed away and when I came to my leg was off. At first I was sorry I didn't die. Now I'm anxious to get back home and try to do something that a one-legged man can do."

Chicago Youth Coincides.
"I thought I was going to die, too," put in a Chicago boy on the next bed, who had lost his right foot and was suffering from machine gun wounds in his left leg. "I wanted to pray, but the only prayer I could think of was 'Now I lay me down to sleep, and that sounded kind of funny to me, so I quit.'"

"Didn't you think about where you might go after death?" asked the nurse.

"No, ma'am," replied the boy. Other wounded men in the ward agreed that while they thought they were going to die, they had looked upon approaching death as something they had taken a chance on, and they were not afraid.

I saw a boy who was a handsome little fellow die in the same hospital. Surgeons and nurses had worked feverishly to save him, but he was slipping across the line this sunny afternoon. His mind was clear and a nurse, whose eyes were streaming, told him he was about to die.

"How old are you, really, boy?" she asked.

"I'm going on eighteen," he whispered. "I lied when I got in."

"That was a white lie," said the nurse.

"Some kid!" Passes.
"Oh," replied the boy, the shadow of a smile flitting across his face. "I told worse lies than that many a time. Miss, will you do something for me? I was going to die and my sister that I died and did my bit."

The boy was lying on a cot under a window in a corridor of the hospital. The nurse sat on the side of the cot until the boy died. On another cot less than five feet away a wounded soldier looked on. As the nurse started away this soldier motioned to her.

"Some kid," he remarked, pointing toward the body.

In camp at the front the soldiers are regular in attendance on religious services on Sunday, on special occasions, but they don't care much about religion at other times. They will attend a religious service in a Y. M. C. A. but if it is raining or cold, but if the weather is fine they remain outdoors.

Protestant chaplains are not as close to them as the priests, because the priests get into intimate touch with their charges through the confessional.

"How McKinney Butter Nut Bread helped me to buy War Saving Stamps"

WHEN I found that every family had to average $20 worth of war stamps this year, I cut out my baking and started to buy McKinney Butter Nut Bread.

"It was John who helped me figure it out."

"When I said to him: 'I'm going to be economical this Fall—I'm just going to get a nice new serviceable, plaid skirt for $17.' John said 'why don't you make it, and save $7 or $8?'"

"I told him I was too busy with my house-work. He asked me why I didn't cut out baking bread.

"And you know, Betty—I did cut out bread-baking, and started to buy McKinney Butter Nut Bread. John seemed to like it almost as well as my own. And with the extra hours that I saved each week I made my plaid skirt and saved $7.50—and you ought to see the way the nice big green stamps keep spreading over my War Stamp certificate!"

The Army Draft Seems to Have Put a Spoke in the Wheel of the Football Coach

QUICKLEY TO START SEARCH FOR MORE FOOTBALL TALENT

New Mentor of Billikens Will Inevitably Invade Medical Department of School Today.

PIKERS HONOR BERGER

Backfield Veteran Named Captain to Succeed Kurrus; Klaliber May Report.

Although his squad now totals 35, Coach Ernest C. Quickley of St. Louis University determined to stir up enthusiasm and reach his goal of 50 candidates before Saturday, will invade the medical department of the Grand avenue institution today in an effort to root out promising gridiron material.

Quickley let it be known that there isn't a nook or cranny in the entire school that will not be thoroughly searched for players. He will not depend upon the desire of the men alone to bring them out for practice, but will personally devote a certain amount of time to those he believes will benefit the squad in an effort to make them perceive the virtues of the gridiron.

Many Veterans Report.

Among the newcomers yesterday were Bill Gallagher, Gene Robertson, Frank Dorian and Bob Kennedy. All are letter men and veterans of experience with the exception of Robertson, who is obtaining a late start in football activities, because of his duties at shortstop for the Denny's Stars, State amateur baseball champions. Robertson, however, played halfback for four years at Loyola, hence needs only to acquaint himself with Coach Quickley's methods, to be thoroughly at home.

Dorian did not get into a uniform yesterday, because of a slight cold. However, he watched the workout from the sidelines and expects to be among those present this afternoon. Denny's, another letter man, played tackle last year, will report this afternoon, while Frank O'Donnell, another veteran tackle, has reported that he will join the squad before the end of the week.

Quickley expects to taper off the training of the men as soon as a full squad is present and then will begin active scrimmage practice, following which the coach doesn't expect to lose much time in selecting his first string eleven. Quickley has made it plain, though, that the players will earn places strictly on their merits.

Still Seeking Game.

Father H. A. Hermans, Director of Athletics at St. Louis University, yesterday dispatched telegrams to Kentucky State and Indiana in an effort to fill the vacancy on the schedule, providing the game with Marquette T. has to be abandoned. All hopes for this contest have not yet been given up, but Father Hermans desires to be prepared for the cancellation, providing such an order is given.

It is highly probable that, providing Indiana is booked, the game will not be played here. Hence, the question of obtaining a furlough for the players again enters into the scheme, but Ma. Gennell has hinted he may consent to a 48-hour leave of absence, if permission from Washington can be obtained.

Berger Captain's Pickers.

George Berger, who played in the backfield last season, yesterday was elected captain of the Washington University eleven, to succeed Andrew Kurrus, who enlisted in the army several months ago. Berger is a St. Louisan and previous to entering Washington played on the Cleveland High School eleven.

The pickers are rapidly attaining form and it is safe to say that, barring injuries, the eleven will be in almost perfect condition when it faces the Scott Field aggregation a week from Saturday. Incidentally, elaborate preparations are being made for this contest. Mayor Killebrew has agreed to kick off instead of the Mayor's customary habit of pitching the "first ball."

Coach Rutherford is showing a novelty in practice sessions thus far. Instead of the three backs and the quarterback taking their regular positions, the Pikesaw coach lines up his quartet of backfield men and the center passes directly to the man who is to carry the ball. This, according to Rutherford, will minimize the fumble hazard and also will make for speed.

Wants Killebrew to Play.

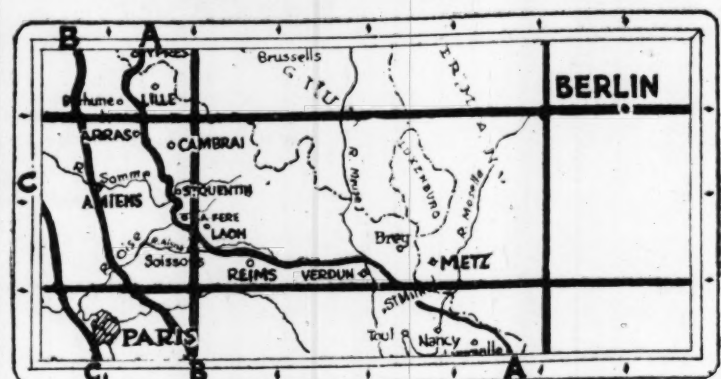

Yesterday Berger, Potthoff, Kraeche and Griseledick held down backfield positions and made an impressive showing. Both Berger and Griseledick are exceptionally fast, in addition to carrying the necessary weight. Potthoff and Kraeche are blunders of merit and give Rutherford a well-balanced backfield.

Rutherford is trying to induce Ed Klaliber, the massive center, to return to football this year. If he does, he will have beyond a doubt one of the best lines the myrtle and maroon has possessed in years. However, Klaliber suffered an injury while playing football in high school and this has made him dubious about returning to the game.

Coach Rutherford is still opposed to playing post-graduates and men who have formerly performed at least three years. A rule was recently passed by the Missouri Athletic Federation, which permits the playing of such men. If the coach sees fit, he may use them. If he does, he will have beyond a doubt one of the best lines the myrtle and maroon has possessed in years. However, Klaliber suffered an injury while playing football in high school and this has made him dubious about returning to the game.

Rutherford pointed out he would prefer not to use this duo, but if the other Valley schools take advantage of the new rule, the coach indicated he will do likewise.

Peterson Devises Unique Game; Names It "Liberty Billiards"

Local Fancy Shot Champion Has New Scheme to Meet All Corners in Balkline Tournament; Has Made Large Runs Under Hard Conditions; Western Battle Line Furnishes Idea.

CHARLES C. PETERSON, St. Louis' best known billiard player, has invented a new method of handicapping for balkline tournaments and also a new game of billiards, which he has named the unique game "Liberty Billiards."

On one of the tables in his parlors, Peterson has drawn a map of the Balkline tournament. Across the table as shown above, are three lines, running as nearly parallel as possible. The lines are marked B and C, representing three classes of balkline players.

Peterson plans an All-Corner tournament with his "Liberty Billiards" game. His opponents are free to count anywhere on the table, so long as they adhere to the regular rules of billiards.

However, when playing Class A players, Peterson cannot count unless at least one of the object balls is between the left end of the table and the line marked A, as shown in the above map. Peterson keeps one of the object balls in this zone, he may count indefinitely. However, as soon as both object balls are driven without the zone, Peterson can continue to shoot but the points he makes do not count unless he has again driven both of the balls within the A zone. For Class B players, the same rule applies excepting that Peterson can only count under the conditions stated above from the end of the table to the line marked B. For Class C players, it will be seen that Peterson has only a very small corner of the table in which he can score his points.

In practice games, Peterson has made runs from 70 to 125 in the Class A zone, 50 to 100 in Class B and 50 to 75 in the Class C zone. He believes the game is not only a novelty, but a very just and interesting handicap, since in a tournament against all corners such as he plans, it places Peterson and not his opponent at a disadvantage.

By way of diversion, after Peterson has made his runs within the respective zones, he starts out on "bombing expeditions," as he terms them, into "enemy" territory. He drives both balls out of the zone, gathers them around Metz or Berlin and proceeds to "bomb" the cities with runs of 10 to 20, following which, after a few shots, he will maneuver the balls back into the zone wherein his points count.

When Peterson was drawn from the zone, he may count indefinitely. However, as soon as both object balls are driven without the zone, Peterson can continue to shoot but the points he makes do not count unless he has again driven both of the balls within the A zone. For Class B players, the same rule applies excepting that Peterson can only count under the conditions stated above from the end of the

HARVARD SOLDIER UNIT TEAM MAY PLAY SUNDAY FOOTBALL THIS SEASON

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 2.—Sunday football in the Harvard Stadium will be very likely played this fall by a team representing the Harvard soldiers and units of nearby colleges, such as Tufts, Boston College and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. This will be the first time Sunday football games have been staged at the Stadium since the outbreak of the war. Field has been the scene of several Sunday baseball games the past summer.

That there is a possibility of the Harvard S. A. T. C. playing football this fall was made known today when the Harvard Athletic Association answered to questions regarding the Government's attitude toward college sports.

The Government believes in athletics to foster company spirit and maintain the high morale of the unit, but it has taken a conservative attitude toward the heavy expense of organized athletics. Long trips, proposition of coaches and expensive training facilities are taboo. Waste has never won a war and it will not win this one. It is for this reason the Government desires that all unnecessary expense be avoided.

"Football for the Harvard S. A. T. C. will probably consist of a few small informal games whenever it is possible for the men to get together. They may be able to play Saturdays, but the Government desires that the schedule, our first duty is to make efficient military officers, and if we can do that and continue athletics all the better."

"If we do play, neighboring units at Boston College, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston University and the Naval Radio School are prospective opponents. There will be no permanent team and no regular schedule. Our first duty is to make efficient military officers, and if we can do that and continue athletics all the better."

RACING PURSES WILL BE PAID IN LIBERTY BONDS

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—W. C. Edwards, racing secretary of the Metropolitan Jockey Club, announced that one purse each day at the Jamaica meeting will be paid in Liberty Loan bonds of the fourth issue.

This patriotic move on the part of the Metropolitan Jockey Club was decided on by W. H. Reynolds and his associates as one way to stimulate the sale of bonds at the track during the meeting of two weeks.

Racing has been behind no other sport in doing its bit in this world struggle for democracy, and lovers of the sport are sure to respond this time as they have in the past. Every provision has been made for the sale of bonds at the track, and the committee in charge has set its heart on turning in a big total.

ZACHEL TO PLAY WITH SCULLIN TEAM SUNDAY

Manager Pete Ratican of the champion Ben Millers, today announced that he had released Halfback Len Zachel to the Scullin Steel Co. team.

Zachel will line up with Pete Brady's eleven in the game with the St. Louis Scullin Co. team at Cardinal Field next Sunday afternoon. He did not play with the Millers against the Scullins last Sunday.

Zachel has entered the employ of the Scullin company and endeavored to arrange a trade whereby he could obtain his release from the Ben Millers. As Manager Pete Brady refused to part with any players, Manager Italian gave Zachel his unconditional release.

The Ben Millers will play the initial in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader. The winner of this contest will assume undisputed possession of first place.

RANDALL IS NAMED BOXING INSTRUCTOR

Former Local Lightweight Boxer and Referee is at the Lodge Twice a Week.

Eddie Randall, the veteran lightweight boxer and referee of this city, is now an instructor. Randall two nights each week is instructing 35 Sergeants, who are stationed at the Lodge, Belt and Page avenue, and is having great success according to reports. The engaging of Randall as an instructor is one of the moves of the War Camp Community Service to boost the amateur sport here during the winter months.

The Sergeants at the Lodge in turn will instruct the men who come there from time to time and after a time elimination tournaments will be staged there.

It was announced that an amateur boxing tournament with local boys would be staged for the benefit of the service men at the Lodge, on Oct. 22. It is expected that most of the Simon-pures who have taken part in events at the Barracks will participate.

Later on, according to Fred Ward, chairman of the Athletic Committee of the War Camp Community Service, it is the intention of the officials to put on tournaments between the different local units, such as the Lodge, Washington University and the best of the St. Louis talent. There is a chance that these tournaments will be held throughout the winter.

At a meeting to be held at the War Camp Community Service office tonight, Room 425 Pierce Building, a program for the winter sports will be mapped out. Lieut. Steele, Scott Field; Lieut. Floyd, Barracks, the commanding officer at the Lodge, and others on the Athletic Committee are expected to attend.

The sports that the Community Service will handle this winter will be football, soccer, boxing and basketball, with probably most of the attention being given to boxing, as this sport is a great aid to the men in the training for bayonet fighting.

POOR HORSEMEN HAVING HARD TIME THIS SEASON

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Poor horsemen who are trying to win feed money on the New York tracks complain of heavy expenses, which, they say, may soon drive them out of the game. There are many farms who own one or two cheap selling platters that are eating their heads off with no revenue coming in.

"These are hard times for the poor owner," said a close observer of present conditions the other day. "The cost of feed is a tremendous burden. Stall rent has been doubled. Exercise boys who got $40 a month a year ago now demand $60 a month."

"You can't board a stable hand for less than $10 a week nowadays. Against that spring, the man who owns a horse is running in the overnight events that a poor owner who wins one race at each of the fall meetings is a king among the others."

"I can see the finish of many of these horsemen. Expenses soon will eat up their small bank accounts and they'll have to sell out."

O'DOWD NOW INSTRUCTS BOXERS "OVER THERE"

The latest news in the sporting line says that Mike O'Dowd, middleweight champion, has been assigned by the army officials to teach our boys how to box.

O'Dowd is the only American champion boxer who is "doing his bit" on the firing line. In a letter sent here, he said fighting the Hun was much easier than trying to lick an opponent in the ring.

WESTERN A. A. U. WILL HOLD CROSS COUNTRY RUN FOR SERVICE MEN

Fred Ward, president of the Western Division of the American Athletic Union, announced this morning that the local district would stage two cross-country runs this season, one here and another in Kansas City, the dates to be selected later on. However, according to the rules of the National Body, these events must be staged before Jan. 1.

The cross-country runs this year, however, will be for men in the service only, as this form of sport is considered as one of the best conditioners and is heartily favored by the army officials. The runs probably will be for six miles.

EICHENLAUB IS WITH CAMP CUSTER ELEVEN

CAMP CUSTER, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 3.—Camp Custer officials believe in football, but training for war has the preference. Accordingly no men or officers in the new Fourteenth division can play on the camp team, which opens its season with Western State Normal, Kalamazoo, Oct. 5. The depot brigade and stationery units, which have many former university stars, will furnish the team, with Thompson and Kramer, Western State Normal, Notre Dame, and Jackson, Michigan Aggies, among the likely stars.

INTERCOLLEGIATE SPORTS REPORT IS DUE TODAY

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Prof. Thomas E. French of Ohio State University and Averil Brundage, representing the Graduate Management Committee of the Western Intercollegiate Athletic Association, who were sent as delegates to the "Big Ten" meeting at the War Department at Washington to arrange a uniform ruling on football and other intercollegiate athletics, have returned and are expected to make their report today.

The report will show what portion of the original schedule of intercollegiate sport is to be retained, and what is to be the basis for athletic competition for the remainder of the war.

SPORT SALAD

Buy Liberty Bonds.

If you want the war to end, if you want Uncle Sam to lend all the money you can spare, for our soldiers over there, purchase bonds, then purchase more. "Stay-at-home" must pay the freight.

Though we huck the family plate, into bonds your money turn. And you'll have a roll to burn. When you've salted it away. For the well-known rainy day. Uncle Sam will back the loan. Guaranteeing every bond. Shed their life's blood over there. Do not hesitate or lag. Lend your Uncle Sam the swag.

While you live at home in ease Hell is popping overseas. France is running red with gore. While in bed you safely snore. Don't be stingy with your seeds. While our gallant soldier lads shed their life's blood over there—Are you game to do your share?

Buy a bond in case of doubt—These two tournaments are annual fixtures and probably will be kept up despite war conditions. At present the only tournament scheduled for the tenpinner is the handicap event for the benefit of the War Camp Community Service, which is scheduled to start on Nov. 15. It is expected that entry blanks will be sent out next week and that all the organized teams in the city will enter.

Capital Idea.

Why not make everybody who can't show a registration card produce a Liberty Bond?

Jack Dempsey is training for his bout with Battling Levinsky, scheduled to come off on Oct. 9. Jack isn't taking any chances. That bout is liable to come some time.

The rise of Jack Dempsey has been likened unto that of John Gully, one-time champion of England, who finally wound up as a member of Parliament. However, Dempsey is a young man of exemplary habits and by sticking to the straight and narrow may sidestep Congress.

Answers.

Does the man who plays the drums and about 14 other contraptions in the orchestra draw only one man's pay?—Phil Harmonic.

Yes, it looks like the musicians' union booted one there.

Poor Maud.

MAUD MULLER is a farmerette. But cannot vote already yet.

She's good enough to rake the hay. But doesn't draw a farmer's pay.

She pays a goodly income tax. And in her duty never slacks.

Her lord and master's place she fills. And earns the dough to foot the bills.

She pays the children's way at school. While hubby's playing cards or pool.

But Maud can't vote or sign the checks. Because she's of the weaker sex.

Honolulu Gaffer Arrives.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 1.—One of the recent arrivals at this port was William Woon, champion golfer of Honolulu, who plans an invasion of American links.

TENPIN ASSOCIATION WILL GATHER SUNDAY

Successor Will Be Named for Dennis Sweeney, as Secretary of Organization.

The annual meeting of the St. Louis Bowling Association will be held at the American Hotel next Sunday afternoon, when several important questions will come up for discussion. Chief among these will be the selection of a new secretary to succeed Dennis J. Sweeney. It is expected that the question of local tournaments also will come up at the gathering.

Just who will succeed Sweeney is hard to state. Sweeney has handled the position so long that he has come to be looked upon as a fixture and no one rarely paid any attention to the secretary's office. However, Sweeney now is manager of the Washington alleys, and for that reason ineligible to serve in his old place. What will be done in the matter of local tournaments is unknown at the present time. However, it is almost certain that a city handicap and a city scratch tournament in five-man, two-man and singles will be staged.

These two tournaments are annual fixtures and probably will be kept up despite war conditions. At present the only tournament scheduled for the tenpinner is the handicap event for the benefit of the War Camp Community Service, which is scheduled to start on Nov. 15. It is expected that entry blanks will be sent out next week and that all the organized teams in the city will enter.

HIGH SCHOOL COACHES TO SELECT FOOTBALL OFFICIALS NEXT WEEK

At a meeting held at Central High School, yesterday afternoon, names were suggested as officials of the Intercollegiate League football game this season. The final selections will be made at another gathering to be held next Tuesday. All of the intercollegiate coaches were present, except Walker of Central and Mathews of Cleveland were represented yesterday.

The names of many well known gridiron officials were placed on the probability list. They include J. C. Haight of Alton, who handled last Saturday's Central-McKendree game; B. C. Quickley, St. Louis U. coach, who handled most of the important Missouri Valley contests last season; W. C. Connett, D. C. Henry and Shiber, last year's officials; Howard Haynes, Central; C. R. Bente, Webster; Stanley Hill, former Yeakman coach; C. A. Callen, Central, and E. C. Guy, Cleveland, are other probabilities.

S. A. T. C. OFFICER IS FORMER FOOTBALL STAR

OTTAWA, Kan., Oct. 3.—Lieut. Sauer who is the S. A. T. C. commandant at Ottawa University here and Baker University at Baldwin, is the former University of Chicago all-around athlete. Lieut. Sauer was a halfback on the football eleven, and an all-Western halfback, center of the basketball team and first baseman on the ball club. He is strongly in favor of athletics or a similar activity to keep the mind and body of his hearty co-operation in the carrying on of athletics in every way not detrimental to the operation of the S. A. T. C.

Ruth and Agnew Working.

LEBANON, Penn., Oct. 3.—George (Babe) Ruth of the Boston Red Sox, 1918 world's champions, has accepted essential employment at the Lebanon plant of the Bethlehem Steel Co. and, with Sam Agnew, his old battery mate, will play ball with the Lebanon team. Agnew accepted a job here last week and Ruth came here with his wife a few days later.

Tom Holland Enlists.

Through an error it was announced in these columns last week that Bart Holland, the Indiana fullback, had enlisted in the navy. Instead it is his brother, Tom Holland. The latter has enlisted in the Marines and expects to depart for Paris Island for training next Monday.

Coombs Assistant Coach.

Jack Coombs, the veteran right hander of the Athletics and Supreme now assistant football coach of Rice Institute, football school at Houston, Tex. There is a possibility that Coombs will be retained by the Rice Institute as a coach.

Kid Herman Only Champion Who in Danger of Losing His Home

Leonard, Kilbane and Other Titleholders Are Not Expected to Be Called Upon to Defend Crowns During Campaign.

WITH the Leonard-Lewis combat a memory, it is doubtful whether the winter will bring forth any important championship competitions in the ring, except in the bantamweight division. Pete Herman of New Orleans, who dominates that class, bids fair to have as busy a season as his naval duties will permit. A group of formidable bantams, including Frankie Burns, Dick Loadman, Kid Williams, Johnny Ertle, Joe Burman and Jack Sharkey already have begun to bombard him with challenges. All the other titleholders with the exception of Jess Willard, who may never defend his title again, have been active in the war in khaki, and over all rivals in their respective classes that it is doubtful whether titles in any but the bantamweight division will change hands for some time to come.

Dempsey Is Best Heavy.

Outside of Willard, Jack Dempsey unquestionably is the best heavyweight in the world today regardless of his so-called defeat on the coast in the light-heavyweight bout with Sharkey, although both of the were fought in states that do not recognize the championship. Herman is content to go along beatistically most of the time.

Johnny Ertle, the St. Paul bantamweight, formerly champion of the world, is training diligently, hoping to win a title. Ertle has recovered all his old laurels. Ertle hopes eventually to obtain a match with Herman. In the event, however, he intends to make the welterweight bantamweight a clear margin of superiority over all contenders. In the lightweight class

COLLEGES OF FAR WEST WILL FOSTER ATHLETICS DURING FALL CAMPAIGN

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Oct. 3.—Intercollegiate athletics among the colleges and universities of California, Nevada and Utah having started, the colleges are to be encouraged so far as these contacts do not interfere with the academic and military instruction, according to an announcement by R. L. Wilbur, president of Leland, Stanford Junior University and regional director of military education in the three states named. Any intercollegiate schedules that may be arranged will probably be authorized by the military authorities of each institution. The statement says:

"It is desired that athletic sports are to be encouraged either in each institution or among neighboring institutions, in cases in which distances are so short as to necessitate no interruption of the weekly schedule of academic and military training. Athletic sports as formerly pursued, involving extensive trips and specialized training, are inconsistent with the soldiers' program of drill and instruction in the use of arms."

There is much speculation as to whether this ruling will not open the way for a resumption of football in California and Leland Stanford Junior University which have been suspended for some years.

Among the players who are expected to be called upon to defend their titles are Joe Condon, Frank Taberski, pocket billiard champion of the world; Albert Cutler, Beau Brummel of billiards; W. FRENCH ARTIST IN THE WAR

Drawing made for the Post-Dispatch by Robert Lortac, one of the French "Blue Devils" who won the Croix de Guerre and military medal in his two years' service on the battlefield. He is a painter and illustrator. He was so severely wounded that today he cannot raise his right arm to salute, but he is able to carry on his art work. M. Lortac is in charge of the gallery of 600 drawings and paintings by 85 artist-soldiers of France on exhibition at the city hall.

THE FALL OF BERLIN

As It Will Be Reported in the Berlin "Rottenblatt."

YESTERDAY afternoon a handful of Entente prisoners were brought into our esthetic city and at once put to work polishing the stones in the courtyard of the Imperial Palace, where they will be tolerated till the return of the royal family from their hunting trip in parts unknown.

Berliners are urged not to abuse these foreigners too coarsely should they chance to meet one or two of them Unter den Linden or at the Tiergarten, as it is apparent that they have no sense of humor. Probably the most efficient way to treat them would be to cross the street at their approach.

As a public expression of the nau-
